Foreword

There is a pleasure in the pathless woods,
There is a rapture on the lonely shore,
There is society where none intrudes,
By the deep Sea, and music in its roar;
I love not Man the less, but Nature more,
From these our interviews, in which I steal
From all I may be, or have been before,
To mingle with the Universe, and feel
What I can ne'er express, yet cannot all conceal.

—Byron

MONTANAS UNIVERSITY SYSTEM
VOTE FOR REFERENDUMS

Careful now! Watch that third step, it's the tricky one.

The photographer has to get in here someplace.

MORRILL HALL

One-half of Morrill Hall. Accent on modern agricultural methods. Occasional reference to an extinct twentieth century vertebrate: the horse.

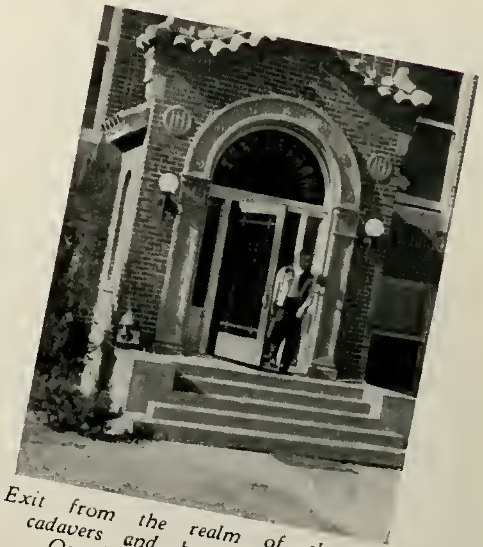
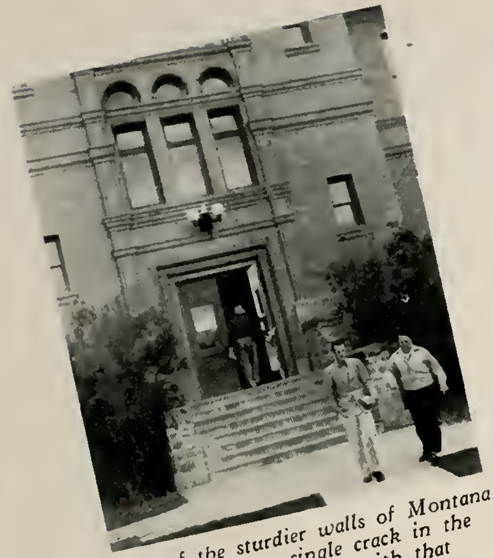
An FFA: Frantic Fanatic Aggie. Presently conserving energy.



Exit from the realm of clammy cadavers and botanical borsch. Occasion for speed: lunch.



One of the sturdier walls of Montana Hall. Not a single crack in the mortar. Careful with that door, though!

One of the several entrances to Lewis Hall. Use restricted to faculty, students, males, females, microcephalics, etc.

MONTANA HALL

Dedication . . .

With a deep sense of gratitude we dedicate this 1949 MONTANAN to those Montanans who have faith in the future of the greater University system and would have higher education in Montana ever expanded and always improved.

To their foresight and their "keeping of the faith" in the future of Montana and its academic opportunities as exemplified in the voting of referendums 51 and 52, we can only extend the deepest and humblest appreciation of Montana's students and faculty.

GYMNASIUM

Campus headquarters for recreation. A heart as big as a free throw circle. Basketball, swimming, ping pong, etc., for all muscle seekers. Fee: a little cooperation. Biggest athletic event of the year: registration.

Don't loiter, lad. Go on in.

CHEMISTRY BUILDING AND LEWIS HALL

Impressive entrance to test tube land. Alchemist considering possibilities of reclaimed razor blades.

"If your sills were shot and your beams okay, I'd say go ahead, but . . . "

ROBERTS HALL

N-O-S-M-O-K-I-N-G. It's a rule. Get rid of that box of cigars and go to class.

Engineering shops, nearest thing to an industrial plant on campus. Chief product: metal shavings.

At Last . . .

Excavation for new library. First dirt moved at elaborate ceremony by an unidentified mole.

Architect's sketch of the new library, the first state-financed brick structure to be built on the campus since 1920. The event calls for loud cheers, dancing in the streets, and a fervent wish that it won't be another thirty years before something comparable occurs.

ROLAND R. RENNE

President of Montana State College

If it weren't for the fact that Dr. Sebastian Xanadu of Boniface Barber College stands only three feet nine inches tall in his sweat socks, Dr. R. R. Renne would be the shortest college president in the United States. Nevertheless, Dr. Renne is still a man who needs a custom-built yo-yo. When you measure college presidents, though, it doesn't make any difference about pencil marks on a ruler—it's ability and competence that count. Judging by these standards, Dr. Renne is fourteen feet tall. And judging by the vital, dynamic program propagated by him for the future growth of Montana State College, he's a mighty big little man.

VALERY GLYNN

Dean of Students

If the day ever comes when your house burns down, your family is stricken with Black Death, your fiance marries your best friend, your teeth fall out, your checking account evaporates, and you hit yourself on the thumb with a forty pound sledge hammer, go see Val Glynn. If he can't do anything else, he'll at least sympathize with you. And if it's a situation that calls for a little more than sympathy you'll get cooperation with a capital "C". He can pull more wires than a marionette director.

ETHELYN C. HARRISON

Dean of Women

When you girls see a notice on the bulletin board proclaiming: "Girls shall not wear open-toed sno-pacs, off-the-shoulder saris, or sequined levis on the campus under penalty of death," you can bet your last Kleenex it was Dean Harrison's idea. Can she help it, though, if she wants you to look like ladies? Can she help it if she wants you to act like ladies? Can she help it if she wants you to be ladies? Can she help it if . . . . enough of that. For Dean Harrison: a nosegay of decorus wistaria.

BERNARD COPPING

Secretary-Treasurer

Ever notice Mr. Copping's right thumb? Years of thumbing through bundles of five-dollar bills has transferred so much green ink to his right thumb that when he's fingerprinted he doesn't even need an ink pad. It might be all right to take off your shoes and wade around in a pile of twenties, but when it comes to keeping tabs on all that moolah . . . . phooey! For doing a difficult job and doing it well, a big bouquet of green thumbs to Mr. Copping.

MARTHA L. HAWKSWORTH

Registrar

Before dropping dead, you'd better drop in and see Miss Hawksworth—you can't drop anything without seeing her first. Yuk! Yuk! Yuk! As far as that goes, you can't add anything either. If you want information on your approximity to that glorious sheepskin, you go see her. If you want to find out whether you took Pinochle 302, you go see her. And if you want to see the first woman Registrar at MSC, you go see her.

DR. C. W. HAMMER

Physician in charge of Student Health Service

Heap big medicine man. Gottum ache? He fix. Gottum pain? He fix. Givum pills. Givum snake oil. Heap big magic. Gottum big head? Sleepum in? Gettum slip. Gettum excuse. Heap big magic. Foolum nobody. Guaranteeum work. Nobody go happy hunting ground. Heap big medicine man. (Ed note: Copy stinkum.)

DIVISION OF

DEAN CLYDE McKEE

Division of Agriculture

Heading the Dean of . . . rather, division of Agriculture, one of the oldest Deans on . . . rather, departments on the hill, is Dean Clyde McKee. The 1948 MONTANAN gave him credit for "literally never forgetting anything," but if the truth ever came out, the 1948 MONTANAN would be held for libel. Dean McKee can't for the life of him remember how many times he's had his hair cut. It's not a case of not knowing, either; he was there every time. He just can't remember. Of course, a man as busy as he is, circumscribed by the duties of deanship and research, can't be expected to remember everything. For the Dean of Agriculture: a fragrant chaplet of timothy hay.

AGRICULTURE DEPARTMENT

Remember back in '09? A feller didn't need no consarn college diploma to drill an acre of hard-winter wheat then. Didn't need no 236 credits in farmin' to milk no cow, neither. Course, nowadays everythin's sci-entific. Ya gotta be sci-entific if yo wanna keep the soil alive. Can't be a wearin' it out—it's all we got. Ya gotta keep it rich. Ya gotta be sci-entific. And when it comes to bein' sci-entific, any dadblamed fool knows there ain't no fittener place to learn how than up there at the College; up there in the Ag-reeculture department.

DIVISION OF

E. W. SCHILLING

Dean of the Division of Engineering and Head of the Department of Electrical Engineering

It would be blasphemy to suggest that division deans prefer Calverts two to one (or any other way), but here truly is a "man of distinction": Dr. E. W. Schilling, Dean of the Division of Engineering; head of the Department of Electrical Engineering; author of countless technical treatises; member of countless honorary societies; handsome, suave, sophisticated. (This is not a paid political advertisement.) He stands head and shoulders above his colleagues. In fact, if he had only one eye in the center of his forehead, Dean Schilling would be a veritable cyclops. For the Engineering dean: a jolting garland of Eveready flashlight batteries.

ENGINEERING

H. F. MULLIKIN
Mechanical Engineering

It used to be that an engineer was a guy in a Smoky Stover hat who threw pennies to kids in country schoolhouses and tooted steam through a whistle when he saw a cow on the track. Not any more. An engineer is now a guy who goes to MSC for four years, takes either civil, architectural, electrical, industrial, chemical, mechanical engineering or engineering physics and goes out into a technological world trained to do everything but flush a water closet. It is assumed by the Engineering Division that the student has picked up this ability somewhere along the line.

DIVISION of HOUSEHOLD

KATHERINE ROY

Dean of the Division of Home Economics and Applied Art and Head of the Home Economics Department

Listen to this again: Dean Katherine Roy, Dean of the Division of Home Economics and Applied Art and Head of the Home Economics Department. How's that for a title? It's even more preponderant than Aly Khan's father's. And just think, one frail, little woman carries that title around on her shoulders day after day. Collapse is inevitable. However, until she does collapse, you can rest assurred that a strong, firm hand is at the helm of the division. For Dean Katherine Roy, Dean of the Division of Home Economics and Applied Art and Head of the Home Economics Department: a lei of oatmeal cookies, typewriter erasers, and graphite sticks.

The Division of Household and Industrial Arts includes the following departments: Home Economics, Applied Art, and Secretarial. While possibly not the best division on the hill, it is rated among the top four; there being, naturally, three others, on the hill. Also (on the hill) it is considered to be the repository for good-looking girls, good-looking girls, and good-looking girls.

DIVISION OF

F. B. COTNER
Dean of Division of Science

Heading the polygot Science Division is Dean F. B. ("Adorable Jones") Cotner, a kindly, affable man with the interest of his students foremost in his mind. Hindmost in his mind is his cerebellum, a large dorsally proecting part of the brain, anterior to and above the medulla, which it partly overlaps. That should clear that up. His lectures contain a mess . . . rather, mass, of information acquired from his wide reading and varied experiences. (Ed note: his reading is as wide as Sydney Greenstreet.) For deaning it over the potpourri Science Division: a toga picta fringed with Bayer aspirin tablets.

DIVISION OF SCIENCE

If you are interested in learning whether birds really mate on St. Valentine's Day or whether it is possible to play "Old Black Joe" on a Japanese simisen with a broken string, the Division of Science offers you the opportunity. If you are interested in the science of free throw tossing, or the science of writing informal essays, or the science of history, or the science of modern languages, again this omnifarious division is the spot for you. And if you are interested in—strangely enough—science, you won't find a division of the hill with more of it.

Dean of the Graduate Division

Dr. Nelson guides the fate of approximately one hundred graduate students, outlining programs for theses, etc. He also heads the Dairy Industry Department. Sometimes things get popping so that Dr. Nelson can't tell his graduates from cottage cheese. Cottage cheese, by the way, is white and oozy. Graduates are green.

Bulletins published (for the benefit of forward-looking agriculturalists) on the following subjects: "The Place of the Black Angus Bull in the Farm Kitchen," "Thirty Thousand Different Ways to Prepare Barley for Particular Cows," and "Arabian Horses in Relation to Chocolate Malts." Everyone should know such things. Yes Indeed.

PHYSICAL PLANT DIVISION

WALTER BAKER
Superintendent of Physical Plant Division

Mr. Baker is concerned with keeping you warm in the winter, cool in the summer, and with keeping the buildings in general repair. Also his hirelings change an occasional fuse. Mr. Baker is especially busy in the spring. Thousands of arthiritis sufferers descend on his office renting space in the campus roads for mud baths. The healthiest mud in the country!

Cal Hoiland has such a well rounded personality that a trained seal could balance it for four hours, be rewarded with fourteen sardines, and at the end of that time neither the seal nor the seal's trainer would be aware that it was a personality they had been tossing around. This is high praise. (Ed note: You must've been high when you wrote it.)

ASSOCIATED WOMEN STUDENTS

LILA SWAN

President of Associated Women Students

"Women should be associated," wrote Phillip of Phillips in the latter part of the eighteenth century, "into an association of some sort." This is an association of some sort: an association (it might be added) of women for the express purpose of being associated into some sort of an association. Lila Swan is a woman, and who could be better chosen to head an association of associated women than a woman? Or better yet — an associated woman?

STUDENT UNION BOARD

This group manages the financial affairs, upkeep, and other administrative problems of the Student Union Building. The "other administrative problems" probably refer to something very important such as sorting empty Sen-Sen packages from the cigarette butts for use in the library. They make swell papers to put under paperweights.

BOARD OF PUBLICATIONS

Horace Greeley said, "Go West," so all these people went west. When they got West, they weren't satisfied with just being West, they had to make an issue out of it. Soon these embryo editors will be crying, "Go East! Go East!" and the whole vicious circle will start all over again.

FACULTY RELATIONS

These representatives handle the relations of students and faculty when these relations get strained. If you've ever seen a strained relation you can sympathize with the people who have to handle them. They can be awfully messy, you know.

TRAFFIC COMMITTEE

Some people feel that this group is more concerned with decorating windshields with little red cards and making pedestrians out of motorists than it is with anything else. False. Its function is the protection of the motorist, the pedestrian, and the bicycle rider. True.

SOCIAL COMMITTEE

Arranging 'Rush Week" periods, setting dates for campus social affairs, and devising new rules circumscribing the dilletantes of Dionysus, keep this group as busy as a one-armed juggler on a tight wire trying to roll a cigarette in a typhoon. That's pretty busy, brother.

A silver tear appears in the eye of all students when they realize that these magnificent edifices, erected in the glory of higher education must someday be . . . yes . . . torn down.

Go, from the creatures thy instructions take:
Learn from the birds what food the thickets yield;
Learn from the beasts the physics of the field;
Thy arts of building from the bee receive;
Learn of the mole to plough, the worm to weave;
Learn of the little nautilus to sail,
Spread the thin oar, and catch the driving gale.

While the Ag Club is a "farmer family," they certainly are no "stick in the muds." An extremely active organization, they have managed in the past year to sponsor the Rodeo team at San Francisco and the annual Intercollegiate Rodeo, as well as the Little International. In between times they combine talents with the Home Ec Girls to put on a basket social.

Recognizing the proper role of woman in modern society, a few young college ladies enroll in departments of home economics for purposes of learning the finer points in "making" a home. In the course of their schooling, they make contact with such domestic activities as sewing, cooking, and tending the offspring. Pictured below are said ladies at MSC.

DOROTHY BENNION

To succor the sick is the most noble of all virtues, and who is there who is better equipped for such duty than the fairer sex? Answering their country's call for more and better medical care, the noble ladies pictured below have enrolled in the school of nursing at MSC and its units throughout the state. We salute!

Here are some mighty sharp EE's who stand ready to build great dynamoes to harness nature's powers in the service of mankind. With their formulae and slip-stick, they can calculate the "drop" in ten miles of high tension wire. Maybe that's why power is cheap in Montana.

In the ivory tower that is the top floor of Roberts Hall reside these gentlemen with their abstract designs and even more abstract ideas. These future builders of America are closely akin to the building industry, and thereby hangs a tale: it takes more than an architect to solve a housing shortage.

"Pan" is a word meaning all. Everyone should know this—it's vital to life. "Hellenic is a word meaning . . . ugh . . . well, everyone should know this. When you add them all together it comes out: "an organization composed of all Greeks (this is very literal) for the express purpose of setting dates for inter-sorority affairs (this is also very literal)." Once a year they have a dinner at which surprise engagements are announced. One year, three girls were really surprised: they all announced their engagement to the same Lothario. When the debris had been cleared away, a big-boned blonde has a headlock on one of the other girls while the third was roaming around the room picking her teeth. The blonde was declared fiancee by majority vote.

Once upon a time, there was an Inter-Fraternity Council. It convened twice a month in an abandoned bee hive down by the big barn and decided dates for parties and dances, rules for rushing, and whether or not they would allow stuents with 50 I. Q. or above to enter their organizations. They also chose candidates for school offices. When the candidates they picked for office were elected, (which was the rule rather than the exception) they would hie themselves off to their apiary and get stinko drinking fermented honey juice. Then one day, the big fraternities and the little fraternities disagreed on a point. The bee hive really started buzzing. When the din had died away, there was a great big jagged split right in the middle of the Inter-Fraternity Council. And the great, great, great big fraternities lost an election, and they were unhappy and lived unhappily all the rest of their lives. The end. Ed. Note: The moral of this story is not to hold meetings in an old bee hive. Somebody is bound to get stung.

During a beauty contest sponsored by the Kellogg Kornflake Mines of Kellogg, Idaho, one of the judges hit upon the idea of classifying leg contours according to alphabetical designations. A neat calf and a slim ankle he called an Alpha Gam. A less neat calf and a thicker ankle he referred to as a Beta Gam. And a leg that looked like waffle batter, he called a Zeta Gam. One of the Alpha Gams, or rather, two of them, eventually reached Montana. The girl who was attached to them founded this sorority. Later, it was learned by a disappointed girl with Zeta Gams that the judge was so blind he couldn't see water if he was swimming in Lake Erie.

Founded in 1900 by a husky pie maker from Stockholm, this sorority has grown into an organization as broad as its founder. The local AOPi's live in a big, rambling house on Fifth Avenue. Their house is termite-proof, fire-proof, and man-proof. Testifying to the latter are the bleached bones of several unidentified males gracing the jaws of a bear trap at the dormitory entrance. With a fraternity house rearing its head within spitting distance, the easiest way to an AOPi's heart is a simple gift: high-powered binoculars.

There comes a time in every girl's life when she must decide whether to be a woman or pledge Chi O. Erase that. A Chi O is a girl that . . . no—erase it. The Chi O's are an athletic bunch, having won enough trophies to swell the Louvre. They have won awards for everything from shell racing to jai alia. Among the most treasured is a small golden blister upon which is inscribed: "Chi Omega. First place. Six-day bicycle race, Coasterbrake, Tennessee." Their treasures are stored in a subterranean vault beneath Quad F. Some contend that a Chi O hasn't got a chance of making the honor roll, living in a house with an alphabetical designation like that. They aren't a bit superstitious, though.

Rumor has it that one of the flying cadets stationed in Quad E during World War II never escaped. Eight DG's plucked him out of the formation that filed from the Quads so unobstrusively that his sargeant didn't discover the loss until after the surrender of Japan. Some say the cadet struggled, but everyone knows he couldn't have been insane or he would have been discharged. Today, this cadet is dead. At the DG's tearful request, a skillful taxidermist stuffed him with argyle socks and seated his body in an attitude of repose upon the softest chair in their living room. There he remains, glassily surveying the girls who knit lengths of wool into new socks so that he might always remain stuffed. Ed. Note: Nova skoscha kov, pop?).

A group of construction engineers working on a project at the mouth of the Mississippi river got lonesome after several months, so they called upon their wives to join them. The women came floating down the river on inner tubes and after two days in camp, they got lonesome too. The only way out was to form a sorority, which they proceeded to do. After the constitution had been written and the officers elected, they were still stuck for a name. Finally one of the wives had an idea. Since the project was designed to cap the Mississippi delta so that the sun wouldn't make the laborers lazy, why not call the sorority Kappa Delta? They did. Unlike the founders, the present KD's are more interested in construction engineers than founding sororities.

The Pi Phi's rinse their socks on the second and third floor of Quad D and, like all good sorority girls, save the water for soup. According to an independent survey conducted among sorority girls, it was found that Pi Phi's prefer Lux soup, two to one. Lux may also be the secret of their mysterious, jealously guarded, hot chocolate receipe, which makes your taste buds do flips across the back of your tongue. When intruders are found snooping around, they meet the same fate as their predecessors, whose shrunken heads dot the Pi Phi's window sills. Mrs. True uses one head for a darning egg.

In one of the seven architectural atrocities of the world, authorities have isolated a group of freshman girls. It is said by some that the architect who was working on the building committee committed suicide after two weeks on the job and that a blind, deaf, crippled, and insane ex-hodcarrier completed it. Looks like it. Nevertheless, the place is rich in lore. At one time, long ago, a freshman girl disappeared into a closet, and when next seen she was decorating the end of a length of hemp. The present inhabitants are certain that the incident was percipitated by hunger. No one has gone to such measures to complain about the food recently, but the verbal complaints continue to go hissing around—and the girls continue to gain weight.

Women's

The women's quonsets are strictly the domain of women—and repairmen. It seems that something is always going wrong—a stuck float valve, a loose retereonastis, a plugged drain—and a demure young thing never knows when she'll wake up and find a man in coveralls changing the casters on her bed. Another charming aspect of these semi-circular hostels, is the rooms. Well, not exactly rooms—cubicles. No . . . you couldn't say that either. Dwarfed phone booths would be better. In each room there is a Murphy bed; they're the only kind that will fit. The girls have been sleeping vertically for so long they think horizontal is a creme shampoo. Maybe it is.

"AGR'S"

"Understand you are pledged AGR?"
"Yes, but please don't tell mother. She thinks I'm sticking up gas stations."
The AGR's are noted primarily for the calibre of their pledges Everyone of them is .30 calibre. That means that every pledge must be able to get his head into the muzzle of a Colt revolver which hangs in their trophy room right next to a stuffed Sigma Chi. If a pledge can just barely insert the top of his head, he becomes an active. But if a pledge can impale himself to the ears, he becomes an officer. The president has to have a head like a pipe cleaner.

"Yes but please don't tell mother. She thinks I'm glommin' wallets at a Turkish bath."

The Gamma Phi's have a unique organization. At the present time they hold their meetings in a can of sweeping compound in one of the SUB broom closets. If anyone gets out of order, the MAA throws furniture polish in the culprits eye's. ## "KAPPA SIG'S"

"Understand you pledged Kappa Sig?"

"Yes, but please don't tell my mother. She thinks I'm rolling customers in an opium den."

The Kappa Sigs are popularly situated twixt the AOPi house and the Snack Shack, but they're so far from town that they have their own vineyard in the basement. They accept only pledges with big, flat feet designed for pressing grapes. Big, flat heads are also acceptable . . . maybe the rule. They have a lot of fun and are never rowdy. Their trophy room is lined with mounted Pabst bottles; one sequined thinga-a-ma-bob. When an active dies, his body is carried to the biology lab amid wails of mourning. Up to date, not one cadaver has had to be preserved. It seems that Kappa Sigs "keep" very nicely.

"Understand you pledged Lambda Chi?"

"Yes, but please don't tell my mother. She thinks I'm picking pockets at Santa Anita.

From an inscription carved on a stone in the basement of the Lambda Chi house, it has been ascertained that the fraternity was founded in 1879 by a crooked Chicago gambler named "Three Fingers" Demarest. "Three Fingers" was enamored of a Blackfoot Squaw named Alpha. One night, after winning forty dollars in a fixed domino game and barely evading an irate mob who had discovered his trickery, he burst into Alpha's wigwam and cried: "Let's LAM 'TA CHI, ALPHA!" The house now stands where that historic wigwam stood. The wigwam was better. Ed. note: I am happy to announce that this writer is no longer with us.

"Understand you pledged Pi Kap?"

"Yes, but please don't tell mother. She thinks I'm still running heroin across the Rio Grande."

Believe it or not, there was once a day when there was no such thing as a Pi Kap or a Senator Pike or a "dream girl." Quite a few years ago, thirty-five Blazer-swathed MSC students all fell in love with the same girl. Her name was Swanee Rivers. Swanee was such a popular girl that you couldn't see her sweater for the frat pins. Gradually, however, the thirty-five fawning swains overcame all competition for her favors except each other. When one of them went out with Swanee, thirty-four shadows followed him; shadows that strummed gaily on thirty-four mandolins and crooned softly "I'll be glad when you're dead, you rascal you." Events finally reached such a state that these thirty-five suspicious young men banded together and formed the PiKA Fraternity, just so they could keep an eye on each other. Incidentally, Swanee married the tatooed man in a summer carnival.

Recently the Phi Sigs painted their house. When they finished the job, they started drinking bottles of amber liquid that foamed when they bit the cap off. Already the white paint is beginning to peel away from the dormers, but the Phi Sigs are still popping bottle tops. The ceiling of their trophy room is studded with half-imbedded beer caps, the floor is studded with half embedded Phi Sigs. Each Saturday night, three actives stand at the back door of a local bistro with a big net, waiting for pledges. This way many Phi Sigs don't even know they're Phi Sigs.

"Understand you pledged SAE?"

"Yes, but please don't tell my mother. She thinks I'm still in solitary at Alcatraz."

The SAE's have the biggest house on South Willson. They have the biggest lawn, too, and bronze plumbing. They've even been thinking of putting in a fur-lined swimming pool. You can see that this is a unique organization. It's exclusive, too. No one can pledge SAE unless he passes a physical examination proving that he is alive. Naturally, a few get around this. Another thing: there isn't a smoe in the bunch . . . snooks, maybe, but no smoes. In the honeyed words of "anytime" Melissa, "they're terribly provincial, but just too, too quaint."

"SIGMA CHI'S"

"Understand you pledged Sigma Chi?"

"Yes, but please don't tell mother. She thinks I'm stealing widow's pension checks."

The Sigma Chi's get their pledges out of a tar pit in the basement, wash them off with a solution of wood alcohol, and give them a tweed sport coat. When the sport coat begins to fray at the elbows, the pledge becomes an active. Then these actives proceed to drink the wood alcohol that is used to wash off the pledges. By the time the sport coat is in shreds, each Sigma Chi has lived a full and glorious life, elected an official "Sweetheart" and several unofficial ones, and has an intestine that looks like a target in a pistol range. When an active finally succumbs, his brothers throw him back in the tar pit.

To a linguist's trained ear, the title "Associated Independents" might sound a bit paradoxical. After all, if an independent were going to be an independent, he wouldn't be associated with a lot of other independents who were trying to be independent. However, for the sake of socialness and patronage in politics, the less independent of these independents have banded themselves into an association. Independent politics have really been black this recent year. In fact, they have been so black that there is some evidence of a "coal" ition. Yuk! Yuk! Yuk! (The only difference between this joke and one of Bob Hope's is that his has a wider audience. Of course, his jokes are funny too.) A self-respecting independent wouldn't be found dead associated. This is just a bunch of chili-eating, guitar-strumming, saddle-toting pseudo-independents.

Ah-h-h, the girls in that Women's Cooperative—bless their little pointed heads. There isn't a single girl in the organization with a head size larger than a darning needle. One fascinating creature has a Hamlet soliloquoy engraved on the point. This took a lot of doing. Once a year, the girls and their neighbors, the Lambda Chi's, have a water fight. This is the nearest that either of them get to water all year long. They get slopping. With male boarders sitting in on the whale stew and chocolate Jello, this is perhaps one of the oddest Women's cooperatives in existence. "Perhaps" nothing, it is. Be this as it may, they're still a bunch of sweet girls—bless their little pointed heads.

A link in the chain of houses stretching along the Boulevard de Willsand, is the Men's Coop, a heap of rubble awkwardly posing as a Spanish style house transplanted from Anaheim, California. The men inhabitating the place are naturally (considering the title and all) cooperative men. You'll have to look a long way to find a bigger bunch of—uh—cooperative men. If you doubt the truth of this statement just ask any coed on the hill, they'll tell you. In fact, they might even go so far as to say that the cooperative men in the Men's Cooperative aren't cooperative at all, but aggressive. They get that way living in that Spanish style house. That Latin blood!

With only two weeks of conditioning and practice under their hip pads, the Blue and Gold of Montana State traveled southward to meet a powerful Utah State Aggie eleven at Logan on September 17. That opening clash gave the Bobcats their first loss, 31 to 6.

|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| Utah State | 13 | 12 | 6 | 0 | - 31 |
| Mont. State | 0 | 0 | 6 | 0 | - 6 |

Utah opened strong, and in the initial period took 13 points without a serious setback. The second quarter was different. The Aggies fought hard to reach the g-stripe and their third tally, then M.S.C. took over and worked down to Utah territory. The crowd leaped to their feet as Montana's Johnny Gardiner attempted an aerial presentation. Fleet Van Noy dashed in, plucked the pigskin out of the air just five yards from heaven, and ran 95 for a touchdown.

Montana State came onto the field after intermission fired with revenge. through a series of penalties, the Utah bunch found themselves on their own 3. It was John Caputo in the quarterback slot. He fumbled and the Bobcats took over. Gardiner in two plays drove into the end zone. Things were looking up, but it didn't last.

Just two plays later in the third period, Montana kicked. Cleon Hodges took the ball on his own 32, and raced 68 yards for the final touchdown.

It was a fourth quarter stalmate. Utah had replenished their squad with fresh reserves. Montana was tired, mighty tired, but with their ebbtide of spirit came one last threatening thrust. Montana State drove again into Aggie ground. Then Gardiner tossed to Marshall, who was finally stopped on the Utah 1. The Utah reserves held and the game ended with a scoreless fourth stanza.

It was a cold miserable September 25 in Bozeman when the local Bobcats completely outstripped the North Dakota State Bisons 33 to 0. It was M.S.C.'s first victory.

The first half was a backfield field day. Buzz Brisbin came through in the first period with a 59 yard run. Marshall broke away in second quarter for 70, and before the intermission came around, Jim McGillen raced 32 yards from a bootleg setup.

| M.S.C. | 12 | 13 | 0 | 7 | - 33 |

All-in-all the Blue and Gold gained 357 yards by rushing, in 45 plays. The Bisons never seriously threatened. Early in the third quarter McLaren started a passing offensive to Bredell. That combined with ground plunges by Bredell brought the North Dakota crew down to the Blue and Gold 31, the closest the Bisons managed to drive all afternoon.

It was halfback Jim Schrumpf, who gave the spectators a quick thrill in the third period. Schrumpf took the ball on a handoff, and started to run. Realizing he was bottled up, Schrumpf dropped back a step and quick-kicked. The pigskin neatly left the playing field in the old coffin corner, and that left the Bisons on their own 2-yard stripe.

Four Montana State gridders managed to score for the Blue and Gold. Clawson, Gardiner, and McGillen each tallied once, while Marshall toured into the end zone twice.

On Saturday, October 2, at Bozeman, Montana State not only lost a 13 to 6 decision to Eastern Washington's Savages, but they also lost their ace halfback Buss Brisbin due to injuries.

It was a hardluck day in what later became a hardluck season. They couldn't win.

After establishing a first quarter 6-point margin, the Bobcats were blocked in every attempt to score, while having to watch the Savages literally stumble into a victory.

Near the close of the second quarter, Rip Raapana, Savage quarterback, faked a handoff from the M. S. C. 38, and then started to circle to his right. The Cat line and secondary began to close in and Raapana was forced to pass from the 35 to Halfback Grazier on the 5 mark. Glazier stepped over for the touchdown. The crowd howled their displeasure, claiming Raapana had passed from beyond the line of scrimmage. Movies of the game later bore out the spectators observation. Head Linesman Bill Hodges had drifted with the play, and had failed to notice the violation. Eastern Washington was gifted those 6 points.

Shortly after halftime, Schrumpf booted 40 yards from his own 30 only to have the play nullified on a clipping penalty. Marshall then took the ball on a 42 yard run, with first and ten, the Cats moved down to the Savage 1. Cohn fumbled going off tackle, and Washington kids kicked out to safety.

In that same third quarter Gorrilla tried a flat pass which was intercepted by Joe Lowe. Joe went the distance for the final touchdown. Not real hard luck!

Grads, from Reno Sales ('98) through the class of '48, joined with eager collegians to watch the Montana Bobcats take a 12 to 6 victory from the North Dakota University Sioux during the October 9 homecoming celebration.

Four Gridcat fumbles during the first half left the Cats trailing 6 to 0 at half-time. Two Sioux fumbles during the second half gave the Blue and Gold their victory.

Van Rueden, in the second period picked up a Clawson fumble on the M S. C. 41. Herb Claffy, 155 pound Sioux back, passed to Huffman on the 35. On the next play Claffy twisted his way around the right end and over goal stripe for 6 points. Montana tried to retaliate, but were stopped by the intermission gun after traveling 58 yards.

Montana picked up their first touchdown after brilliant Bill Boston ruffled the Sioux feathers with a 52 yard punt to the Savages 4-yard line. Quarterback Miller fumbled on the 5-yard stripe as he tried a sneak. Clawson and Fox hauled the pigskin into paydirt.

On the fourth down in the final period Vern Huber, of the Sioux, elected to pass. Perrigo nailed him well behind the line. With Gorilla in the signal spot, he dumped a short toss to Perrigo. Perrigo went 54 yards before being dragged down. Clawson, following perfect interference, rounded his right end for his final score.

The Sioux threatened twice more with passes into the endzone. The first attempt, though completed, was called back on an offside. The second went long.

Montana State suffered heavily from two trips into Idaho, and one against the Wyoming Cowboys at Billings. Idaho State managed to edge the Cats 20 to 14 in the last 19 seconds of an October 30 clash at Pocatello. Idaho university followed with a 28 to 12 clash at Boise on November 6, and Wyoming splattered the Cats 46 to 12 in the season's final at Billings.

Idaho State's Bengals were trailing 13 to 14 as they went into the last few seconds of the ballgame. With 19 seconds to go, Quarterback Jim Black fired a pass to Al Kirlin good for 34 yards and the winning margin.

The Bobcats gained 276 yards rushing, and 20 first downs, while the Bengals only managed 129 yards with 11 firsts.

A first quarter 43-yard pass from McGillen to Kinney in the Idaho U. skirmish plus another short one by the same combo gave M.-S. C. its first touchdown. McGillen connected again in the second stanza with a toss to Perrigo. Perrigo trotted 76 yards to the goal line and M. S. C.'s final touchdown.

The Idaho Vandal's scored all four touchdowns from long drives.

Montana University's Grizzlies went the distance twice to take a 14 to 0 victory from the Bobcats at Butte's annual Copper Bowl classic on October 16. More than 10,000 fans packed into Naranche stadium to witness the poorly played clash.

| | | | | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| Mont. Univ. | 0 | 7 | 0 | 7 - | 14 |

Neither the Grizzlies nor the Blue and Gold showed up well. Boston and Brisbin's 6-kick average of 49 yards saved MSC from taking what might have been a worse drubbing. The U. clan penetrated Bobcat territory on five occassions, and managed to make two of those drives good. M. S. C. made only three thrusts past midfield, the best of which got to the University 15.

Starting very late in the first stanza the Grizzlies, from their own 23 started a march that ended on the Bobcat 6. The Cats held momentarially until an offside advanced the ball to the 1-mark. Helding pulled a successful sneak, and Preuninger converted. The score stood 7 to 0 against the Cats going into the second half.

Malcolm, of the Silvertips, managed a 25-yard runback during the closing seconds of the third period. As the final quarter opened, the Grizzlies stood on the Blue and Gold 40. That 40 yards was climaxed by a 5-yard toss from Helding to Delaney. The conversion was good, and the final score stood M. S. U. 14, M. S. C. 0. The Copper Bowl went to Missoula.

Portland university took their first victory of the season from Bobcats by a close 7 to 0 score at Portland on October 23. It was Mr. Dan Christianson, who, almost single-handed, added the straw that broke the Bobcats back.

| | | | | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| Portland U. | 0 | 0 | 7 | 0 - | 7 |

In the third period, the Portland Pilots downed a Boston punt on the M. S. C. 43. Quarterback Christianson and crew moved the pigskin down to the 30. Dirty Dan then completed a flip to Freeman on the 16. He followed that with another to Bill Connell, which put the Pilots on the 1-yard line. This gave him an opportunity to sneak over for the tally.

Excepting that third quarter thrust, M. S. C. was able to stop every other attempted march. Twice the Gattonmen got within scoring distance. Their first opportunity was loct when a second stanza 72-yard drive failed on the Portland 3, and once again in the third quarter when they reached the Pilot 15. Boston averaged 46 yards in 8 punts

It was obvious at mid-season that the Bobcats were a luckless squad. They drew but a meager amount of breaks, and when they needed those small favors so desperately, Lady Luck seemed reluctant to encourage. Just how different the season's tally could have looked with only a reasonable amount of good fortune, is left to individual conjecture.

It was hardly more than a token season for Coach Dom Dira and his fledging eleven. A total of three games netted the frosh gridders one victory, 26 to 0 over the school of Mines, and two defeats, 6 to 7, and 7 to 20, at the hands of the University Cubs.

The opener against the Miners was a Kitten ballgame all the way. This fray certainly gave cause for optimism. The usual amount of roughness was noticed as with any frosh combination, but Dira & Co. were not to be sneered at.

On October 30, the Cubs managed to squeeze out a victory at Missoula. Here again the Kittens showed strong potential. It was only the breaks that kept the Bozeman neophytes from standing in the win column.

The season finale, here on Gatton field, was a bit of a let-down for the few local fans that huddled in the stands on that dreary November 6. After the early Cub lead, the Kittens fell apart. Chinske's crew kept the ball in Blue and Gold territory during the entire final half.

COACH BRICK BREEDEN

Montana State's Blue and Gold quintets wound up the 1948-49 season on the short side of 14 to 15 win record. This included a preseason loss to the noncollegiate Billings Stockmen five.

In colegiate play, the Bobcats struck an even 14 to 14 record. The season started slow, and after taking two from the Rocky Mountain Bears, the Cats dropped four in a row. Three of those four went to Wyoming with the fourth falling to Utah State.

From there on in, the Breeden aggregation did well to split their various 2-game clashes. Well that is, until they hit a six-game winning streak against the Idaho Bengals and Colorado Miners. The final two games were split with the University Grizzlies, a loss 58 to 56, and the last game thriller, a victory 82 to 81.

MANAGER TED DAY

It was John "Brick" Breeden's return to Montana State, but the season failed to lend an auspiciousness to the return.

Brick, one of the former Golden Bobcats, was absent from his usual post last year during a leave of absence to the University of West Virginia, where he was doing work on his master's degree. He returned this fall to take up his teaching and coaching duties.

The season was marred by the resignation of several of the Bobcats strong men. Disunity was noticed early in the season when Bob Hatfield left to join an independent squad at Laramie. Thad Talcott left during midseason to join a Bozeman independent five, and later on Tom Brown and Wil Johnson, both Bobcat veterans, left under similar circumstances. It was a rough blow for a coach to take, particularly when the problem of juggling personnel into a winning combination was becoming a weekly process.

Ted Day, a former gridcat, had the task of managing the Cats both on their extensive trips and their play here in Bozeman.

GEORGE RYAN

CLARK COOVER

JOE KELLY

The Billings Stockmen, an independent quintet made up of former collegiate cagers, managed to force the Bobcats into a slow, controlled type of game. The Cats were nosed out in this preseason opener 49 to 44.

Against the Bears of Rocky Mountain college, on November 26 and 27, the Cats opened up their collegiate schedule with a twin victory 56 to 44, and 50 to 33. This was the Blue and Gold opportunity to build some measure of confidence for the stiff schedule ahead.

What confidence they may have gleaned, however, was soon shattered when they met the powerful Wyoming combination on December 3 and 4. Those lanky cowpokes dumped the Cagecats twice 60 to 47 and 65 to 41. An effective Bobcat five was sadly lacking.

It was during these Wyoming tussles that Breeden had an opportunity to realize the talents of Sophomores Les Curry and Thad Talcott. It was also during this duo meeting that it was generally realized that Monana State had a long way to go if they were to claim any sort of power in the Rocky Mountain conference.

What became a crushing blow was the Blue and Gold being pitted against their toughest adversaries during the beginning of the season. Directly following the Wyoming fiasco, the Bobcats met Utah State, and Wyoming again at an invitational meet at Logan, Utah on December 10 and 11. This netted Breeden's crew two more defeats. Four defeats in a row certainly isn't conducive to boosting any squad's morale.

Whitworth college was the next to face the Cats. Here, on December 17 and 18, the Spokane crew took the first game 66 to 51. Montana snapped back in the second clash and reversed the score. This was the first Blue and Gold victory since the Rocky Mountain games.

Well into the Christmas vacation, the Bobcats met North Dakota university on December 20 and 21 for their last home games before the two-week southern trip. North Dakota eased out a 49 to 42 victory the first night. Again, the Cats came back on the second clash to almost reverse the score. The Cats second night victory added up 49 to 41, and Montana was off for Reno, Nevada.

Nevada university took a 2-point New Year's eve victory 54 to 52. On New Year's night they squeezed their final margin to three points with 59 to 56 tally.

Upper Left: Bill Peden (6), ace Cagecat guard, tries a push shot from close in as Colorado State tries to block it. Mathias (11) and Hammell (12) look on.

Lower Left: It's Joe Mathias (11) all the way off on an attempt against that same Colorado State Five. Someone pulled the ← bench out that Joe was kneeling on.

On January 7 and 8 the Blue and Gold faced Colorado College at Colorado Springs. The Tigers downed the Bobcats in both clashes with a 53 to 45 count in the initial tilt, and 59 to 47 in the final.

The trip thus far had gained the Cats four defeats, but they had two games to go before returning to the Gallatin valley. Western State college, at Gunnison, Colorado, fell to the brunt of a Mathias and Curry attack which landslided the Mountaineers under a twin 87 to 58, and 63 to 50 defeat. Montana State headed home.

Hitting the hoop time and time again, the Bobcats took a 68 to 49 margin from Colorado State here in Bozeman on January 21. Led by aggressive Sam Padfield, the Colorado Bears came back during the second game, to defeat the Cats. Another split for the Blue and Gold.

Intensive practice was carried on during the ensuing week. On the coming weekend, January 28, and 29, the Bobcats were to meet Jiggs Dahlberg's playboy five at Missoula.

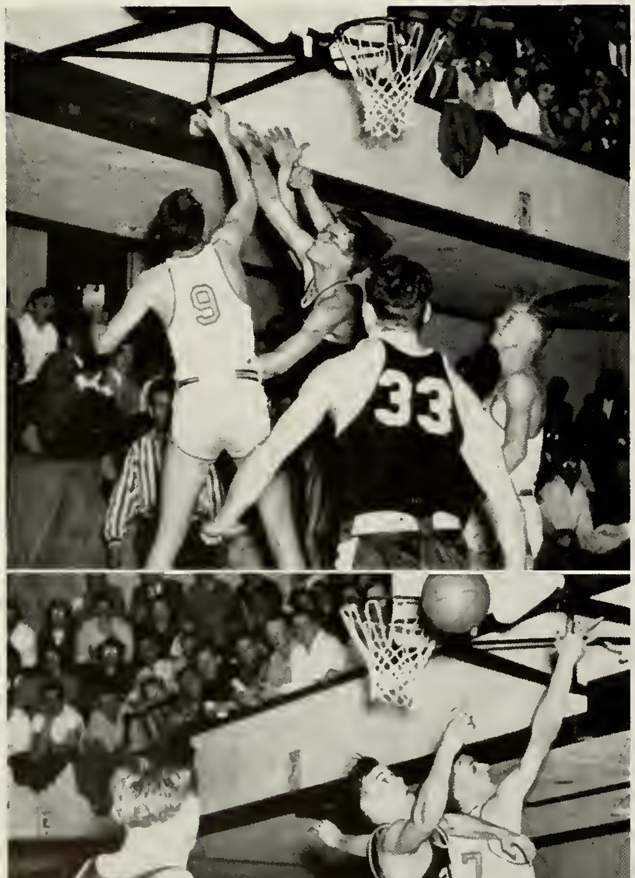
KELLY IN ACTION



The first half of the state championship playoff was underway. Dahlberg had geared his men to a strictly open offensive with a fast, fast break. Aimed at wearing the Bozeman quintet down, the Grizzlies substituted freely. A fagged out Cagecat squad ended up on the short end of an 83 to 71 final.

The Grizzlies tried the same technique on the following night. It was not, however, until the second half that the race track method began to tell. It was successful and the Blue and Gold fell again, 84 to 71. Missoula needed but one more to clinch the state title.

Home again, the Breeden clan ground out two victories over the Idaho State Bengals on February 4 and 5, and thereby started a 6-game winning streak. The Cats took the first by a marginal 58 to 55, and the second, 54 to 47.

Colorado Mines opened strong in both clashes here February 11 and 12, but were easily outclassed by finals of 57 to 52, and 74 to 48. That was four straight for the Bobcats with two to go at Idaho State.

Playing in Idaho Falls, on February 18, the Cagecats took their fifth from the Bengals. The following night at Pocatello they did it again gaining six straight victories.

Lower Left: Joe Kelly (7) got two free shrows as Grizzly Jim ⟵Graham fouled him with an elbow during the Friday clash here.

Right Above: Ray Johnson (9) works on a jump ball and a Grizzly cager, at one and the same time.

The Grizzlies were out to draw blood on Friday, February 27, here in Bozeman. Montana State had just completed a winning streak and to retain the state crown, they would have to carry through. At halftime that first night, the Blue and Gold squad held a 37 to 28 edge, however, things began to happen, and the Grizzlies took 20 points while holding the Cats to 7. It was back and forth from then on, with the Copper Silver and Gold barely on top 58 to 56 at the final gun.

On the following night, both teams opened up. It was fast and close. With 90 seconds to go Montana State college held a 5-point 80 to 75 margin, but rapid maneuvering by Bauer, Cope, and Rocheleau closed the gap. It was 82 to 81 and the Cats protected themselves with a final 40 second stall. Montana State College had won the season's last game, but the state championship went to the Grizzlies.

Upper Right: Joe Kelly (7) looks like he's dancing around the Grizzly defense (Moses and Graham). Actually he had just taken a pass from Jim Ward.

Lower Right: Clark Coover (10) puts the ball against the backboard as a host of Grizzlies await the rebound. They got the ball—as it came out of the bottom of the net. ⟶

Montanan photographers Jim Smith and Russ Wilson catch eight out of the ten players under the basket during the Colorado State game. The two men not included in the pic could not be reached for comment.

Coaching those fledgling cagers through a highly successful season was Don Edwards, a senior in H PE. Material was good, and freshmen knocked over one opponent after another.

Playing a neat fifteen games, the Kittens were toppled on only three occassions. Once by the Casper, Wyoming quintet who they later bested, and twice by the University Cubs who they had previously taken a pair of victories from.

There was not one team that the Cagekittens faced that they did not trounce. Had the Kittens been able to hold down Cub Bob Hasquet in the final pair at Missoula, and if they had been able to unlax after their long bus ride into Wyoming, they might easily have come up with an undefeated season.

These men will be tomorrow's Bobcats. With good training and their share of the breaks, Montana's Blue and Gold could be the team to beat.

A young contestant snowplows through a slalom gate during one of the local meets at Bear Canyon.

Although it is the youngest major sport at MSC, skiing has as great a participation as any sport. Each week-end, scores of students flock to Bear Canyon, Jack Creek, Bridger, Head, and other ski areas around the state to relax on hickory. Foremost among Bobcat ski enthusiasts are the gentlemen pictured on these and the preceding two pages. As members of the state college ski teams they have piled up an excellent record of competition all over the Northwest.

The season opened for Coach Bob Beck's men on January 29, when they competed in the University of Utah's Inter-collegiate ski meet at Brighton. They placed third in a field of nine teams.

Skiing in the International Collegiate Ski meet at Banff, Alberta, Canada, February 5 and 6, the Ski-Cats took sixth in a field of eleven.

The Hickory men closed the season at Gunnison, Colorado on February 27. Although handicapped by the loss of ski-star Carlos Livers, who was injured in a practice, just before the meet began, the team slid to third place among the eight schools competing in the western state sponsored invitational.

Boxing and wrestling have a definite place in the college athletic program. Montana State boxers have already begun plans toward intercollegiate competition. This past year saw them at the Colorado meet. Next year, if interest continues to increase, may bring a planned intercollegiate schedule.

KNOW MONTANA

Our System of Higher Education

By DR. FRANCIS THOMSON

President of Montana School of Mines

Montana's pioneers caught the vision and held the faith that the future of their new commonwealth lay in the youth of the generations yet to be. History shows that immediately upon emergence from the swaddling clothes of territorial status, the pioneer legislators proceeded to make provision, first for grade schools, then for high schools, and next for a state-supported system of higher education.

Their course in higher education was in large measure charted by the Enabling Act of 1899, which gave to the new state specific grants of land (1) "for university purposes;" (2) "for a state school of mines;" (3) "for state normal schools," and (4) "for agricultural colleges."

It was natural, therefore, that the legislative assembly meeting in its third regular session in 1893 should act on the assumption that the designation of four separate land grants, implied four separate institutions, and it proceeded to create simultaneously, a university at Missoula, a school of mines at Butte, a normal school at Dillon, and an agricultural college at Bozeman. Thus 55 years ago, the pattern of higher education was set. That all four institutions were located in the southeastern part of the state may have been unfortunate, but no doubt this corresponded to the population distribution of the era. It was, therefore, probably inevitable that as the center of population shifted toward the north and east, clamor for institutions of higher education in these parts of the state should be irresistible, and that in 1927 provision should be made for the Eastern Montana State Normal school at Billings, and in 1929 for the Northern Montana College at Havre.

Prior to the creation of the two new units, however, the four original colleges created in 1893, had flourished and had grown largely independent of each other. Rivalries had naturally developed, and to deal with this situation, a legal unification was effected by the 1913 legislature. All four institutions were made "units" of a consolidated system which was designated "The University of Montana." A co-ordinating officer, responsible to a State Board of Education with enlarged powers, was provided for and given the title of "Chancellor." Naturally the new units at Billings and Havre were "born into this" system and are integral parts thereof.

Dear Students:

Another Montanan has gone to press. I hope you like this year's book. The staff, a most cooperative and hard working crew, have sincerely attempted to present as representative and interesting a book as was possible under the limitations of space, time, and money. While this year's book is written up somewhhat differently that most Montanans, we sincerely believe that everyone has gotten essentially the same treatment, and that the copy is a bit more interesting than usual.

I wish to give special thanks to David DePuy, who so generously gave us so many good pictures of animals and scenery around which the theme of the book was built. He furnished the majority of the pictures for division and sub-division pages.

More about the staff . . . To Harold Draper, Tom Drummond, and Garnet Kotkin, Associate Editors, a million thanks for the hours they spent doing their oft times tedious work . . . To Russ Wilson and Jim Smith a great deal of credit is due for their patience, and workmanship in turning out nearly five hundred finished pictures out of the hundreds they took . . . To Marian Cade, Avalon Mayer, Gwen Burke, Laura Gibbons, orchids and roses for pictures scheduled, copy written and typing done . . . To Jack Marquis and his staff, many thanks for their efficient handling of their tasks . . . . To Dave Haynes, 'merci' for many cartoons . . . To Taylor Measom, Tom Robischon, Joan McCracken, and Ralph Fix, sincerest appreciation for hundreds of words of well written copy . . . To George Watson, thanks for coming through many times when his help was needed. Finally to the many other willing staff members who gave so generously of their time to help produce the Montanan, my deepest thanks to all of you.

Off the campus many people did much to help us along. Specal credit and many thanks go to Linfield, Lovelace, Ohlsen, and Schlecten studios, Al Salisbury and Ken Nuckolls of Artcraft Engraving and Electrotype Co., Bill Remington and Frank Cross of the Reporter Printing and Supply Co., and Harry Horowitz of the Phototone Cover Company.

When, in years to come, you page through your 1949 Montanan, I hope it will bring back pleasant memories of college days. It was a pleasure and an honor to serve as your yearbook editor during the past year. I sincerely hope that I have discharged my responsibilities to your satisfaction.

Yours very truly,

John H. Nelson, Editor
